

Classical Academic Press Acquires Centripetal Press

Classical Academic Press Acquires Centripetal Press to provide 7th–12th grade students with academically robust science textbooks.

Classical Academic Press, an education, media, and consulting company, has acquired Centripetal Press, a curriculum company that produces science texts designed to transform the way science is taught by emphasizing wonder, scientific inquiry, and mastery.

The mission of Classical Academic Press is to provide the finest classical curricula and media resources to schools and homeschools throughout the English-speaking world. The acquisition of Centripetal Press helps advance and extend that mission by providing customers with a superb science program marked by clear instruction, design, and structure. With the addition of Centripetal Press texts and resources, Classical Academic Press moves one step closer toward offering a complete collection of classical curricula to those seeking to provide a rich, wonder-filled classical education to their students.

Over the past 10 years, Centripetal Press has developed more than a dozen superlative textbooks that have impressed educators with their accuracy, clarity, and depth. Centripetal Press provides concise, engaging texts for 7th–12th graders for the following subjects:

- Earth Science
- Physical Science
- Biology
- Chemistry
- Physics

Helpful teacher resources that include solutions manuals, instructions for experiments, and other teaching tools are also available for each of the science courses.

As a leading provider of classical K–12 curricula, Classical Academic Press is thrilled to be adding this line of science texts to its growing collection of educational materials.

We are very excited to announce that Centripetal Press is now a part of Classical Academic Press. Their proven and robust science curriculum will complement our existing Latin, logic, writing, rhetoric, grammar, modern language, and history series. The superb team at Centripetal Press has been serving many of our customers over the last 10 years and will continue to work with Classical Academic Press to ensure excellent ongoing support and development of the Centripetal Press line. We look forward to the days ahead of collaborating with Centripetal Press founder John Mays and his company to deliver exceptional science curriculum to schools and homeschools throughout the English-speaking world.
